Overview:

The Idaho Juvenile Justice Commission, in partnership with the Department of Juvenile Corrections (IDJC), is dedicating funds to encourage juvenile courts to pursue a range of community based options to meet the needs of juvenile offenders who are at a high risk of being committed to IDJC. By diverting youth from commitment to the Idaho Department of Juvenile Corrections, courts have the opportunity to access funds available from the Idaho Juvenile Justice Commission and IDJC. These funds are intended to provide resources that will ensure the safety of the community and reduce recidivism for juveniles through programs that offer graduated sanctions. The overall goal of this program is to reduce the number of juveniles committed to the Department of Juvenile Corrections. This will result in strengthening families and communities.

The Community Incentive Program (CIP) is intended to provide funds for an array of best practice based interventions including: family therapy, mental health and sex offender treatment and/or transportation to these services in a more populated county. The Community Incentive Program is designed to fill gaps in local services or resources with the support needed to serve juvenile offenders locally where families can participate more fully in their treatment and increase the likelihood of their success.

CIP relies on Screening Teams to develop appropriate Case Plans for juvenile offenders. To access these funds, the Court, Prosecutor, or County Juvenile Justice Official will convene a screening team including members such as those described in Rule 19 of the Idaho Juvenile Corrections and Act and Rules. For CIP, screening teams should include a representative from the prosecuting attorney, defense attorney, Juvenile County Probation, IDJC, the Department of Health and Welfare and the juvenile's parent or guardian Other members of the screening team could include representatives from local school officials, and private provider(s).

Counties that wish to participate in this program must sign a Memorandum of Agreement prior to requesting services and agree to use the Youth Level of Service / Case Management Inventory (YLS/CMI) to determine level of risk and develop a case plan. Participating Counties will be reimbursed for allowable expenses.
